Where to buy SUTINAT 25mg

The anticancer drug SUTINAT 25mg was developed by one of the largest Indian pharmacological industries - the Natco company, known for its developments and the quality of its medicines. SUTINAT 25mg is used for the treatment of renal cell carcinoma, tumors of the renal pelvis, gastrointestinal stromal tumors and malignancies in the pancreas. The drug contains sunitinib malate, which has been used to treat these types of cancer for more than 15 years. You can buy this medication at an affordable price on the website, but before buying and using it, you need to consult a doctor.

Prices for the drug Sutinat 25 mg

Sutinat 25 mg capsules are a complete analogue of the drug Sutent developed by the pharmaceutical corporation Pfizer. The original drug is available for purchase at a regular pharmacy, but its cost is far from affordable for every patient in need with kidney, renal pelvis or pancreatic cancer. The average cost of an original drug is about two and a half hundred thousand rubles per package. While the price of Sutinat 25 mg capsules is several tens of times less. The cost of a generic drug does not indicate its poor quality, the price of an analogue drug is due to the peculiarities of pharmaceutical production in India. The pharmacy offers to purchase the necessary medicine at an affordable price with convenient and fast delivery.

Active ingredient Sunitinib (25 mg)

The active ingredient Sunitinib was synthesized in the USA in 2006 and almost immediately began to be used in Europe and Russia, as tests showed excellent results in the fight against kidney, gastrointestinal and pancreatic cancer. Sunitinib malate, which is part of the Sutinat capsules, has an inhibitory effect on those parts of cells that transmit signals to build new blood vessels that feed the tumor. The use of sunitinib allows you to start the process of apoptosis of tumor vessels, which leads to the deprivation of the focus of nutrition and to the subsequent reduction and death of the malignant neoplasm.
